

Reg Windatt
WINDATT CHERRY FARM

The Windatts have been growing fruit for almost 50 years on West Lake Road, and Reg (seen here by his 1920s cherry pitting machine) says "I must have put a million pounds of rhubarb through the slicer."

Reg's dad grew peaches and had one of the County's first PYO strawberries operations, before concentrating on cherries and rhubarb.

If you've had Slickers rhubarb and ginger ice cream, Bean Counter cherry gelato or Schroedters' cherry pie (lucky you) you've tasted Windatt's fine fruit.

Reg plans to retire soon and, with his five children busy with non-farming lives, the farm will change hands. A woodworking teacher before he took over the farm, Reg will be renovating his lakeside home, volunteering with Habitat for Humanity and maybe he'll go on his fourth church mission building churches and clinics in third world countries.
